

Peasy to Provide Pay-As-You-Go Cashless Tolling for GasBuddy Members

January 30, 2019

GasBuddy members who join Peasy receive $20 GasBack credit

MESA, Ariz., Jan. 30, 2019 /PRNewswire/ -- Peasy, a multi-state and hardware-free pay-as-you-go tolling service offered by Verra Mobility (Nasdaq: VRRM), today announced a collaborative marketing promotion partnership with GasBuddy, the only smartphone app connecting drivers to their Perfect Pit Stop. GasBuddy members who subscribe to Peasy are eligible to receive a $20 GasBack credit, applicable at 90 percent of gas stations in the US that accept Pay with GasBuddy. Peasy subscribers can use most electronic cashless tolls within the United States knowing that they will not incur costly toll violations, all managed through a single account.

Verra Mobility, a leading provider of tech-enabled smart transportation solutions, launched Peasy last fall. Peasy's mission is to simplify driving and vehicle ownership, and its pay-as-you-go toll payment solution makes it easy for out-of-state travelers or infrequent toll users to access cashless toll lanes, automatically pay toll fees, and avoid costly penalties or violations, for as many vehicles as they like, all from one account.

"GasBuddy has built an impressive member network that has grown beyond just locating the most convenient gas stations," said David Roberts, CEO of Verra Mobility. "For years they have consistently provided trusted and valued recommendations to their loyal community of drivers, and we are excited to be offering Peasy, our mobile tolling solution to their community. GasBuddy members can now not only save money at the pumps, but also enjoy worry-free convenience while traveling toll roads."

Founded in 2000, GasBuddy connects consumers with their Perfect Pit Stop by allowing users to locate gas stations based on fuel prices, location, and ratings/reviews. Pay with GasBuddy was also launched in 2017 as a fuel savings program, and has since saved Americans more than $3.6 million at the pumps.

"Our mission has always been to help consumers navigate the roadways while saving money as easily as possible, which is why this partnership with Peasy and Verra Mobility makes perfect sense," said Michael DiLorenzo, Chief Marketing Officer at GasBuddy. "Highway travel is a key part of our ecosystem, with toll roads creating a faster and easier path to your destination. We're thrilled to offer our members access to the Peasy network where they can seamlessly pay tolls on the go, while also saving money on gas with a $20 GasBack credit promotion when they sign up."

Signing up for Peasy is a simple three-step process. Users create a Peasy account online, snap a picture of their license plate and enter their payment information. GasBuddy members who sign up for Peasy can then earn $20 in GasBack on a future fill-up with a Pay with GasBuddy account. Users can register for Peasy at www.drivepeasy.com/gasbuddy.
