Verra Mobility wins 2026 GovTech Breakthrough Award for innovation in government technology

November 12, 2026

Recognition highlights next-generation innovation helping government agencies modernize operations and adapt to customer needs

MESA, Ariz., Nov. 12, 2026 /PRNewswire/ -- Verra Mobility Corporation (NASDAQ: VRRM), a leading provider of smart mobility technology solutions, today announced that it has received the "Legacy Modernization Innovation Award" in the GovTech Breakthrough Awards program, recognizing the company's innovative approach to modernizing government transportation systems.

The GovTech Breakthrough Awards recognize leading companies, technologies and products transforming how government agencies operate and deliver services. The 2026 program received hundreds of nominations from companies in more than 15 countries, spanning innovations in public safety, government cloud technology, cybersecurity, and more.

Verra Mobility's next-generation platform was recognized for reimagining how transportation technology is designed, deployed, and maintained. The award reflects Verra Mobility's continued leadership in developing innovative transportation solutions that help government agencies operate more efficiently, respond to evolving community needs and advance road safety.

"Modernizing government technology requires more than upgrading legacy systems. It requires reimagining what we're building and how that supports the evolving needs of our customers," said Jason Rivera, chief technology officer, Verra Mobility. "With our next-generation technology platform, we've developed a cloud-native, configuration-driven platform that gives agencies greater flexibility to adapt to changing requirements without extensive software customization. This recognition reflects our commitment to building secure, scalable technology based on the needs of our customers."

Verra Mobility's approach to technology innovation is rooted in understanding the operational challenges facing government customers and developing solutions that address their evolving needs. By combining decades of transportation industry experience with modern technology, the company is helping agencies move beyond traditional legacy systems to improve efficiency, strengthen security, and adapt more easily to changing requirements.
